"The Coin Machines Merry-Go-Round"

By Bill Gersh

RECOGNITION FOR COINMEN

Our article this past week on the need for a Coin Machines Credit Bureau received a great deal of comment. Everyone was in agreement with the belief that there should be some sort of agency created, whether it was a Credit Bureau or a National Board of Trade, to arrange for financial as well as general recognition of operators, jobbers, distributors and even manufacturers in this industry.

"In this way", one noted coinman writes, "we would eliminate a great many headaches, suspicions and other troubles we have these days in buying and selling as well as in price quotations and general understanding as to who's who in this business."

Another coinman wrote, "Every jobber and distributor should become a member of the Credit Bureau and should only be recognized as a bonafide jobber, distributor or operator if he can show certain stipulated financial as well as ethical business standing."

One letter went on to explain, "The bonafide operator today whose credit standing is such in his own community that local auto dealers and other merchants would, in pre-war days, send trucks and other merchandise over to him on his word, even before he completed any financial arrangements with these dealers, has no such method for recognition in this industry where he earns his livelihood. The Credit Bureau or National Board of Trade should be so set up so that each and every operator is given recognition after he proves that his business methods and his financial resources are such that he can be termed responsible. In this way we won't have to worry about ordering a machine from out of town and getting something that has to be thrown away because we have been forced to pay in advance, without privilege of inspection, and the other man already has the money."

From everywhere came instant acclaim for the idea of a Coin Machines Credit Bureau. The members of this industry realize that the creation of such a bureau at this time would be of tremendous value in the post-war era as the unit to bring closer together the various factors that comprise this industry for the betterment of all concerned. There is no doubt that the effect of a Credit Bureau would be truly important to the future progress of this industry. Not only for the men among themselves, but, even for outside credit consideration for those who would seek information regarding anyone connected with this industry.

As one letter stated in part, "No man would really be considered an operator, jobber or distributor and therefore able to obtain his special prices for merchandise unless he was officially recognized by the Coin Machines Credit Bureau. Even if he insisted on giving no credit information and therefore was unable to obtain a credit rating and would have to be sold for cash or on personal risk of anyone who cared to trust him, he would still be officially known to the Credit Bureau and would, in turn, be recognized as an operator, jobber or distributor and we would then know we weren't selling some storekeeper or some other outsider."

The acclaim for a Coin Machines Credit Bureau grows greater with each mail. We should like to hear from more of the men engaged in this industry regarding their thoughts in this matter. The article on the "Credit Bureau" appeared in the April 20, 1943 issue of The Cash Box. We recommend that you read it again.

SECOND WAR LOAN DRIVE

The Second War Loan Drive now in progress everywhere in the country offers an unusually fine opportunity for coinmen to distinguish themselves and gain the greater respect and acclaim of the public as well as of the officials, the press and the leaders in their individual communities. This is the sort of effort that is well remembered by the public and the press. Coinmen who are members of associations should get together with other members and arrange for purchase of war bonds, as many as they possibly can afford, thru their association headquarters so that the organization will gain recognition from the community in which they are located. Independent operators, jobbers, and distributors should also make it their business to purchase war bonds thru channels which will recognize the fact that the purchases were made by coin machine firms.

In this way the entire industry would benefit. Drives carried out now by the men in this business to help put over the Second War Loan will prove of definite advantage. Those, who a few weeks ago read our item on financing charities and how this was acclaimed in the debates on Bingo before the New York State Legislature will also remember that because of the fact that Bingo helped finance charities so much support was forthcoming for this diversion. The good words that were spoken for Bingo by churchmen and others, all ended with the statement that, "Bingo helps finance charities". It was therefore our aim, at that time, to get coin machine men to do the very same thing in their own communities and thereby gain at least as good support as Bingo did.

Now along comes Uncle Sam and offers the entire industry an unusually fine opportunity with this Second War Loan Drive. The theatres, the circus and others have plunged instantly into action. The Ringling Bros. Barnum & Bailey Circus on opening night in Madison Square Garden, New York, (Friday, April 9) sold $3,000,000.00 worth of War Bonds. This instantly won the hearty approval and commendation of the public as well as the press and the City's officials and authorities. Similar action should be taken by coinmen everywhere in the country. This will gain the favorable reaction necessary to keep coin machines in operation long after the war is over.

It is the hope of The Cash Box that coinmen will, this once, drop all juvenile suspicions, all petty dislikes, and join themselves together with all others in their territory to make a contribution that will sparkle from the headlines in their local press so that it will be long remembered by all their community.

WIRED MUSIC

We sat enthralled the other day listening to certain music leaders discussing the possibilities of post-war music operating. All declared that wired music offered a great many possibilities because of its "personal touch". These men believed that this "personal touch" of wired music is sure to bring it back stronger than ever, in one form or another, when the war is over. They agreed that the public have not only come to like the voice they hear accepting their programs and their coins but that it is so much easier to operate wired music. A great many more reasons were advanced why wired music is bound to win an even greater following after the war. Some were of the opinion that leadership would be established in some new and improved fashion when the war is over and that there might even be a television connection with wired music.

PAT-ON-THE-BACK DEPT.

We received the following letter from C. G. Scholle of American Sales & Service Co., Rock Island, Ill., after he had received his first issue of The Cash Box, "We wish to compliment you on your confidential weekly, The Cash Box. It gives the jobber about all he wants at a glance and at the same time keeps information away from those curiosity hounds who keep the office force busy answering postcards from persons merely wanting information and never intending to buy.

"We can carry this paper around with us and whenever we have a few minutes can glance at it, which we could not do very easily with other publications.

"We wish you all the luck possible in your venture and expect to be a regular subscriber as long as we continue in business and as long as you continue to publish."

LABOR PROBLEM

In our past (April 20) issue we discussed the manpower problem and its probable effects on all the trade. As everyone engaged in this industry at this time realizes, the most outstanding problem is that of labor.

We have just come from visiting some important, nearby cities and found jobbers and distributors sold out of merchandise and not able to complete deliveries in keeping with their promises for it was impossible for them to get sufficient labor to crate the machines.

The same was true of operators who are cutting down on their routes to tight and highly concentrated operations because of the fact that they have lost and are continuing to lose help.

Once again, it all sums up to the fact that this industry is becoming a much more highly concentrated unit and therefore the men that will remain in it should be given every possible help to maintain themselves. Those men who are already using women for servicing and collecting have reported them extremely capable in this regard.

With the labor problem growing ever more serious, coinmen should attempt to continue with their present operations as highly concentrated as they can make them and yet try out various labor angles, such as women for servicing and collecting and somehow, thereby, maintain themselves at all costs to overcome this manpower shortage for they are tremendously important and necessary to the continued maintenance of the retail business backbone of this nation.

OPERATING TODAY

The average operator these days is enjoying his greatest boom and yet is beset by a great many problems. These are no greater than his own locations are going thru nor any worse than any other division of the amusement industry is facing, and in most cases, we're happy to state, overcoming.

Those music operators who have suddenly come to the realization that their overhead has tremendously increased and are now trying to obtain "top" or "front" money are finding this a rather difficult task in some territories at this time. One operator advised us that he had demanded of all his agents that they get $3.00 "front" money each week from every phono stop on their list. He lost a few locations, he reports, but the majority held and since he was planning to let go of some spots anyway because of lack of help he didn't mind the loss. Yet, in some locations he had to fight tooth and nail to get this $3.00. Trying to explain the reasons to the location owners, he advises, he found them throwing similar arguments back at him regarding the fact that they, too, were faced with just as great difficulties to remain in business.

The console, pin and slot operators are at better advantage than the music men today. It seems that the bigger take of this sort of equipment has eliminated most financial arguments with locations, with the exception of course, of the old "loan" gag that is still being used by some operators who have very little real sales ability and know of but this one way to get a location. This "loan" method, tho it has been successful in obtaining and holding locations, is at this time an extremely dangerous practice when there is definitely little need for it. By close amalgamation operators in any community can overcome such business practice. But, where operators are suspicious of each other such action will continue.

Many operators have actually been driven into the arcade field by this "loan" practise. Those men now operating arcades like the set-up. Not only do they claim better control over their investment but, also claim that they do not worry anymore about someone walking in and offering the location a $1,000.00 loan and thereby pushing them out of their best spot. Because of this alone we predict that the trend will most definitely be towards "theatres of amusement" on the part of a great many engaged in this industry at this time when the war is over.

The merchandise machine operator has an added advantage today not only because in most cases he has established himself so solidly, but because of general lack of all merchandise items. His worries are obtaining merchandise with which to continue a profitable business.

Operating today, or at any time, is no job for a lazy simpleton. Nor is it a job for just "lucky" people. It is hard and persevering work with no hours and a lot of good common horse sense being used by the operator to make his business as profitable as possible and his locations as much his own as he can.

TRUST

To help make this industry great; to assure its continuance on a most profitable basis; to bring about a better understanding between coinmen; we must have trust in each other to do what is best for each other and therefore for all concerned.

Those coinmen who will not place trust in their fellows are simply hurting themselves and not only the next man. By lacking trust, they usually create a precarious and unprofitable situation in their community, which is hurting them and hurting the business for all concerned.

To trust each other is the one and only way in which the men in this industry can assure each other a better business. It is high time that some men stopped acting like children and forgot whatever little personal dislikes they have and came together to trust each other for the good and welfare of all.

This industry will always continue as a flabby muscled giant unless all those engaged in it trust each other to some extent and thereby learn to cooperate with each other. It is necessary that such trust be put to practise now. It may not be as satisfactory as we should like to see it in the beginning, but, it will catch on and will hold tight - if we all start now and continue from here on in thru thick and thin.

SELLING THE RETAILERS

From one of our subscribers this week comes a circular which he received thru the mail sent to him by the Randolph Radio Stores, 609 W. Randolph Street, Chicago, Ill., addressed to "Mr. Radio Dealer" selling direct to these dealers the A.M.I."Singing Towers" phonograph. The opening page of the circular reads as follows:

"A personal message. This is not an ordinary circular but a message of vital importance. Offering to Retail Radio Dealers for the first time an opportunity to purchase Coin Operated Musical Instruments. Read every word of this message. Here is an opportunity for you to share in the profits of one of America's most profitable businesses."

The circular explains that the original price was $750.00 but that they are now being sold to the Radio Dealers at $249.50. Above the order form the following appears: "You can place your order with utmost confidence. Every one of these new Singing Tower phonographs are guaranteed to be the very latest model. Every instrument fully guaranteed as to materials and workmanship."

This subscriber writes us in his letter, "If we had that national association that you have been advocating in The Cash Box maybe things like this could be controlled. For this, as well as other and more important reasons, we want to go on record as favoring such an organization and we hope that it will materialize in the near future so that the industry can come of age and assert its rights."

Personally, we can only state we are going to feel sorry for a lot of nice radio retailers. We do know, whether we feel sorry or not, that some of these dealers may grasp this opportunity to upset a few locations here and there thruout the country for some fine music operators. Naturally, those men will first attempt to sell the instruments directly to the locations. If unsuccessful in this they will next attempt to operate them so as to get their money back. But, from any standpoint a National Board of Trade, in such an instance, as this subscriber wrote might be of tremendous advantage to all the industry. And once again the need for such an organization becomes paramount.

IMPORTANT

The Confidential Price Lists are to be read as follows: First price listed is lowest price for the week; Second price listed is highest price for the week; Where only oneprice appears this should be considered lowest price.

Many times, wide differences appear in the high and low prices of certain equipment. Like any true reporter The Confidential Price Lists can only feature the market prices as they are quoted. The Confidential Price Lists act exactly the same as the market quotation board at the Stock Exchange—posting the prices exactly as they are quoted for each week, regardless of how much they may seem to be out of line. Some machine prices do not change for months. The Confidential Price Lists, rather than show no price for the week, retain the last known quotations for such equipment so that the subscriber at least has the last known quoted prices as a basis to work with. Prices continue to be very widely divergent these days. Someone on the West Coast may feel a certain machine worth $150.00 whereas someone on the East Coast may think it worth but $75.00. Of course, condition, serial, appearance, demand, territory, quantity, etc., must all be taken into consideration. The Confidential Price Lists report each quotation exactly as it is made and depend on the subscriber to make average price adjustment to fit the peculiarities of his own territory.

CHECK THIS CODE CAREFULLY. BECOME ACQUAINTED WITH EACH ONE OF THE CODE NUMBERS AND WHAT THEY SIGNIFY. THESE CODE NUMBERS APPEAR IN FRONT OF THE NAME OF EACH MACHINE.
